

Pork Information Gateway Additional Resources

PIG Registration

To register for Free, click the "Register" link below and fill out the form.

Register Now!

Feeding Small Grains to Swine

Iowa State University designed this document to provide information on including small grains, such as barley, oats, rye, triticale, and wheat as feedstuffs in swine feeding programs.

Minimizing Feed Costs

Kansas State University PHDs Joel DeRouchey, Mike Tokach, Steve Dritz, Bob Goodband, and Jim Nelssen, created this PowerPoint Presentation to offer suggestions on how to minimize feed costs and increase producer profit.

Alternative Feed Ingredients in Swine Diets

Edited by Mark Boggess of the Pork Checkoff, Joel DeRouchey of Kansas State University, and Hans H. Stein of the University of Illinois, this brochure lists alternative feed ingredients and special considerations for their use when feeding swine.

Management Decisions to Decrease Losses due to High Feed Costs and Low On-Farm Prices for Hogs

Written by Swine Specialist Glenn Conatser from the University of Tennessee, this document offers several management suggestions to help decrease producer losses in 2008 due to the high feed costs and low prices for hogs.

Impact of Increasing Feed Prices on the Optimal Market Weights and Marketing Strategy of Finishing Pigs

Purdue University Extension has released the following report - "Impact of Increasing Feed Prices on the Optimal Market Weights and Marketing Strategy of Finishing Pigs." The study examines the optimal weights for market hogs given higher feed costs found lower acceptable weight marketing is a producer's best strategy in high feed cost cycles.

Download the Publication \(PDF\)